

Customer Case 1

Newly founded financial investment management company (FIMC)

A newly founded FIMC or one that is in founding would like to concentrate on its core competencies and focus on attending to the structuring and management of real estate investment funds. It would therefore like to outsource the fund accounting and parts of the fund administration to an experienced service provider.

Challenge and problem presented for the customer

- Concentration on core competencies
- High market entry barriers due to extensive requirements relating to regulations, reporting and registration
- Avoidance of high initial investments and fixed costs for systems, processes, personnel or know-how

Approach to solution and why acb is the right partner

- Many years of experience and in-depth know-how in all questions relating to fund administration
- Proven, certified and stable system, data and process platform
- Transparent price and production model of acb takes the growth of newly founded companies into due account